EID REFLECTIONS: ACTS OF COMPASSION MADE POSSIBLE BY YOU

This Eid ul Adha, the spirit of sacrifice and solidarity truly came to life — thanks to your kindness and generosity.

We are overjoyed to share that, with your support, we were able to provide Qurbani meat to local madrasas in Rajshahi, ensuring that the children and teachers could celebrate this blessed occasion with dignity and joy. For many of them, this was not just a meal — it was a moment of inclusion, care, and shared celebration.

But the impact didn't stop there.

We extended our support to a resilient elderly woman whose small store — her only means of livelihood — had a broken roof, making it nearly impossible for her to continue working, especially during the rainy season. Your donations helped us rebuild her store's roof, providing her with safety, stability, and a renewed chance to earn with dignity.

These are not just stories — they are lives touched by your compassion. Every gesture, every contribution, no matter how small, has woven a thread of hope into the fabric of our community.

At Dishari, we believe that true change comes from collective kindness — and this Eid, you proved it once again.

From the bottom of our hearts, thank you for believing in our mission to uplift, support, and empower the people of Bangladesh, starting with Rajshahi.

Let's continue walking this path of compassion — together.

NEW ROOF FOR A STRUGGLING MOTHER'S TEA STALL

Tucked in a quiet corner of the community, this humble store is more than just a place for a warm cup of tea — it's the lifeline of a determined mother. Despite her age, she works tirelessly every day to keep the shop running, care for her ailing husband, and carry the silent sorrow of a lost pond that once fed her family.

For years, she has battled the monsoon rains, with a leaking roof above her and a heavy weight on her heart. But today, we have some hopeful news to share.

With your support and our efforts, we've secured two metal sheets to repair the roof. It's a small step, but it means the world—this shop is her strength and her way of holding everything together.

The pond that once sustained their livelihood now lives only in memory. With her husband unwell, she bears every burden alone. We hope that, at the very least, her shop will remain dry during the rains.

We believe in the power of kindness, and we ask for your continued support and prayers for the success of this initiative, just as the new roof brings this mother a bit of comfort amidst her challenges.

Eid Mubarak! This Eid ul Adha, your generosity helped turn faith into action. With your support, we shared joy with madrasa students in Rajshahi and helped restore a livelihood for an elderly woman.

Heartfelt thanks from all of us at Dishari Janakallan Foundation.

A FEAST OF FAITH AND FELLOWSHIP

Eid ul Adha is a time of devotion, reflection, and generosity — and this year, your donations brought those values to life in the hearts of young madrasa students across Rajshahi.

With the Qurbani of a cow funded entirely through your contributions, we were able to organize heartfelt meals at several madrasas ensuring that the blessings of Eid were shared far and wide. These weren't just meals — they were moments of joy, dignity, and community for children who often go without more than the bare essentials.

We were welcomed with warm smiles, eager hands, and eyes full of gratitude. Plates filled with fresh, nourishing meat and rice brought visible joy to the students. For many, this was a rare treat, a festive meal they look forward to just once a year. And thanks to your support, it was served with both abundance and love.

We didn't just share food — we shared a message: They Are Not Forgotten. They are part of a larger family that cares deeply for them, even across miles. In return, we received prayers that will echo for years to come.

This Eid, your Qurbani didn't just fulfill a religious duty — it nourished bodies, lifted spirits, and strengthened bonds within our community.

On behalf of all the children and teachers who sat with plates filled and hearts grateful — thank you!
